ABOUT LACE. - In the sixteenth century lace was a favorite lover's bribe to an Abigail. Silvio, in the bill of costs he sent to the widow of Zelinds, at the termination of his unsuccessful suit, makes a charge for "a piece of Flanders lace" to her waiting woman. Swift addressed a "young lady," in his peculiar strain: "And when you are among yourselves how naturally after the first compliments do you entertain yourself with the price and choice of lace, and apply your hands to each other's lappets and ruffies, as if the whole business of life and the public concern depended on the cut of your petticoats." Not satisfied with lace when alive both men and women craved for it as a decoration for their grave clothes. In Malta, Greece and the Ionian islands, the practice of burying people in lace acquired an unsavory reputation on account of the custom of rifling the tombs and selling the lace-often in a filthy condition -in the market. At Palermo the mummies in the catacombs of the Capuchin convent are adorned with lace, and in northern and middle Europe this fashion prevailed for a long period. In the church of Revel lies the Duc de Croy, a general of Charles the Twelfth, in full costume. with a rich flowing tie of fine guipures

ENCOURAGE HOME MANUFACTURE
I am now manufacturing a good and cheap PAINT, of several colors, the body of which i equal to Lead and Oil, which for tin roofs barns, stables, fences, &c., will be found very suitable as well as economical, and an improvement over other cheap mixed Paints now in the market. For brick walls with a northern exposure it will act as a preventive to dampness. For iron it makes a solid and lasting coating, impervious to moisure and a preventive of rust. Being of various shades of color, the cornice and trimmings can be painted to suit. This Paint has been used by one railroad company and by many of the farmers in this vicinity, and highly recommended by all who have tried it. ome, no pains will be spared to chronicle all neatters occurring in the city and neighborhood. carefully excluding unseemly expressions or gross narrative as unfit for a journal that is treasured at many thousand hearthstones of Virginia. Especial attention will be devoted to presenting, as well from original sources of information as from its exchanges, the news of Virginia, especially such as relate to the development of the resources of the State.

Its contiguity to Washington gives the Gazette an early precedence over all the journals of the State in intelligence of the operations of the General Government, now of such vital importance to the people of the South. The proceedings of Congress, seldom so interesting as now, will be regularly reported in succinct form for its columns, but all matters of especial inter-est in Virginia will be given in detail, and the full text of all bills of local interest will begiven.
